

Tree of Life Discipleship Survey – Scoring Sheet

Instructions

For each question, transfer your answer to a score from 1 to 6, where 1 = Strongly Disagree or the lowest option, and 6 = Strongly Agree or the highest option.

Add up your scores across the page for each discipline, and put into the ‘Total’ column. Double the total score for the Fruitfulness questions so that it is out of 20. Add up the Totals for the Roots and Branches sections. To convert your Totals into a score out of 100, divide the score by 6 and then multiply the resulting number by 5. Put the Adjusted Totals in the boxes provided.

Results Summary Page

In the summary tables below, identify from your scores whether you are stronger in Roots or Branches, and which of the ten disciplines are your weakest and strongest (in case of a tie, pick the one that you believe is truly the weakest/strongest).

On the next page is a table of questions called 'Seeds'. After you have identified your weakest area of discipline, go to the questions for that discipline and find the appropriate question for you to begin answering as part of your growth in discipleship in that area. As a guide, if your Adjusted Total score for each discipline is:

0-10 = 'Seedling' question

10-17 = 'Sapling' question

18-20 = 'Tree' question

If another question seems more relevant, use it instead. Write out the question in the box provided.

Which area is stronger for you? Tick

Branches
Roots

Write in the box

Which is your strongest discipline?

Which is your weakest discipline?

Which fruit(s) of the Spirit did you select?

What question could you be answering at the moment?

[N.B. your stronger disciplines may help you grow in your weaker areas]
